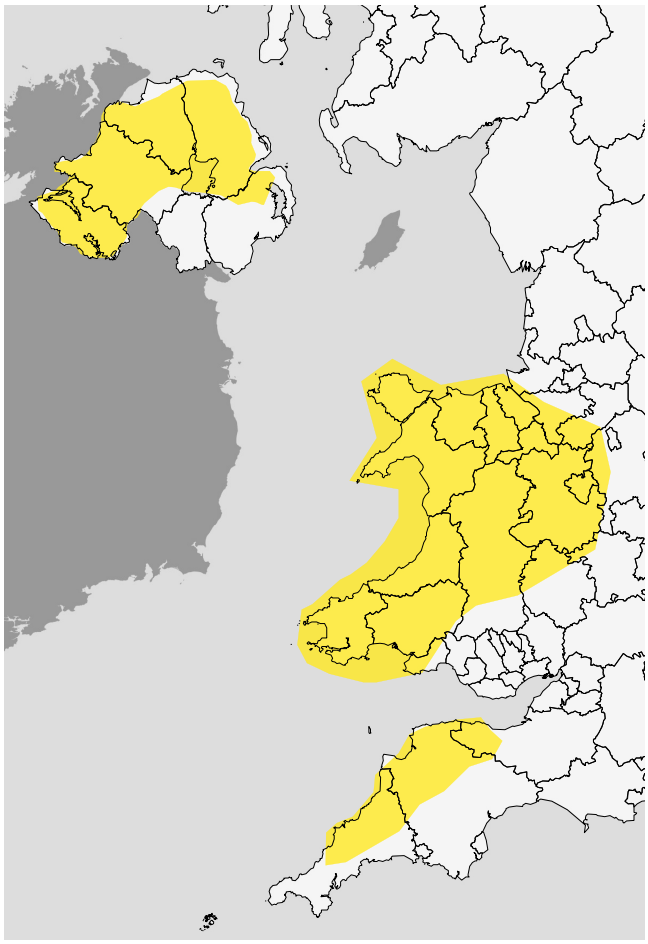
Yellow warning
Ice

Between
17:00 Wed 7 Dec 2022 and
12:00 Thu 8 Dec 2022



Some disruption is likely due to icy surfaces

What to expect

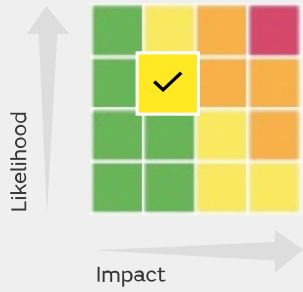
- Some injuries from slips and falls on icy surfaces
- Probably some icy patches on some untreated roads, pavements and cycle paths
- Some roads and railways may be affected with longer journey times by road, bus and train services

Further details

Frequent wintry showers will spread into Northern Ireland through the early hours of Thursday then on to Wales, parts of western and northwestern England, and parts of Southwest England. These will fall on frozen ground in many areas, leading to the formation of icy stretches on untreated surfaces. In addition, showers are likely to fall as snow on high ground, with slight accumulations possible in places.

Reason for update

The end time of the warning has been brought forward to midday Thursday.



Medium likelihood of low impacts
